

PROLINE CONTAINMENT SYSTEM HOT AISLE RETURN PLENUM

Works with a pod of cabinets surrounding a hot aisle. It is supported on top of the cabinets and channels the hot air exhausted from the server equipment housed inside the cabinets up to a ceiling plenum. This is used to completely separate the hot from cold air, drastically reducing data center energy costs.

It is designed to be sold as a build-to-order system that consists of side panels, end panels, and used with the ProLine Express Aisle Doors.
